VOLUME 47 ISSUE 2

OCTOBER 2008

Report from MG Larry Shellito

The current membership year is coming to a close. For those of us who have joined-thank you! What is concerning to me, however, is Minnesota's membership percent age in our state and national associations shows that nearly half of our eligible leader have not joined. There are clearly too many state and national issues that our associations need to address and without membership-i.e.financial support and involvement-we lose a window of opportunity to shape our future.

For all of us, the 2009 membership drive will begin shortly. I am fully aware of the demands placed on all of us for memberships. I can understand if you choose another organization that more fully meets your personal choice. I just ask that you give the National Guard Association consideration. The past several years I have seen significant evidence of the powerful role the NGAUS has played both nationally and in our state. The National Defense Authorization Act, for example, has given the National Guard a fourth star for our Chief. Improvements in the educational benefits are also noteworthy .Changes in retirement to include earlier benefit eligibility for those deployed also signals the changed attitude in congress towards the National Guard.

The 2008 National Guard Association's annual conference was recently conducted in Baltimore, MD. By all measures it was a very successful conference evidenced by a parade of notable speakers to include Senators McCain and Biden., Sec Def Gates, General Casey, and Veteran's Affairs Speaker Peakes. Their presence was continuing evidence that the National Guard has been recognized for its essential role in our nation's military structure. The National Guard's performance-whether at home or abroad-has shown all that we are a relevant, reliable, and ready force.

For the Minnesota National Guard this past year has been a benchmark year. Continued deployments and redeployments, the RNC

(a national security event), recruiting and retention success, and the maturing of our Deployment Cycle Support programs (reintegration) are all positive examines of continuous improvement. It is not uncommon to hear the phrase," it's good to be Minnesota!"

President's Report LTC Robert Intruss

To the Officers of the Minnesota Army and Air National Guard

Greetings! I am honored to be serving as your President of the Association this year. I am very pleased to continue my service to this great organization and the great State of Minnesota. I would like to take a minute to thank all of our service members for their sacrifices this past year, and the upcoming year, it continues to be a very stressful time for our military. The NGAMN board is also feeling this OPTEMPO as well, our Vice President Air Col Paul Cummings has just returned from a deployment and Vice President Army MAJ Kent Porter is deployed at the time of this message, so we are without their guidance and support as well.

As we enter 2009, it's good to reflect on 2008. Among many different things the board worked on in 2008, of note, last year we started the NGAMN Scholarship program, where the Association will award two (2) $500 scholarships annually. For 2008 Ms. Rachel Miller, daughter of LTC Tom Miller and CPT Jacob Helgestad from 2-135 IN were the winners! Congrats to these deserving individuals. For details please check our Association website at: <https://www.ngamn.org/scholarship.pdf>.

Last year, we continued to see a high deployment tempo for many of our units. We've had many members return from deployments and reintegrate with their families, employers and communities. We've had inspections, mission certifications, and mission changes. We will continue to face many if not all and more of these events and challenges in the up-coming years.

On the legislative front, we had our share of challenges and successes as well. Gov. Pawlenty submitted a legislative package that was very supportive of the Minnesota National Guard. Through this package, there were actions passed that will benefit our members, and some that did not that will need to be readdressed. This year's legislative package promises to be supportive to the Guard as well. It takes all of our members to communicate to our district representatives the importance of continue support for the National Guard. Each of us needs to take the opportunity to voice our opinions to our legislative representatives to ensure that we are heard and that our concerns are addressed. It will be no surprise to any of us that in today's economic and political climate, tax money is tight, and the demand for those dollars is strong. We need to be as strong as those we are competing against.

This year while I am president the board will focus on two things. First, MEMBERSHIP. How do we encourage young officers to participate? How do we garner support from our senior leaders? Second, COMMUNICATION. How do we effectively communicate the benefits of Association membership and participation? How do we communicate legislative efforts of our delegations both state and nationally? How do we communicate the NGAMN efforts to improve the organization? If any of our members have suggestions to help us improve these two things this year during my tenure as the President, I would encourage you to contact me directly at: Robert.intruss@us.army.mil or attend any one of our monthly meetings held at the Ft. Snelling Officer's club. Dates and times can be found on our website. Please feel free to attend.

Speaking of membership, we must continue to ensure that our organization is strong. It's not free to fund the actions of those who are working to further our interests. The only way we can do that is through our membership. Our membership levels have been the lowest they have been for many years, which is unfortunate because we are not as effective. We must encourage eligible members to join our organization and to participate in the efforts we put forth. Membership applications for 2009 are available at the National Guard Association of Minnesota website at www.ngamn.org or you can get one from your organizational representative. You can join either on line via credit card or complete the application and mail it and a check to:

NGA-MN Headquarters
Walt Schulz
3530 E. Medicine Lake Blvd
Plymouth, MN 55441

Finally, I encourage each of you to attend our state conference this year which will be held in Mankato, MN the 24-26th of April, 2009. It promises to be an enjoyable and worthwhile event for all. Registration can be accomplished via our NGAMN website as well.

Warrant Officer Caucus Report

CW5® Richard Hathaway

CW5 (ret) Walter Schulz and I attended the Warrant Officers Caucus while attending the 130th NGAUS General Conference in Baltimore MD. The main speaker was CW5 Emerst, NC CCWO and WOSAC Chair. CW5 Emerst spoke of the WO challenges and initiatives.

Some of the issues facing the WO Officer Corp are:

59% of Warrant Officers are eligible for retirement today.

We are at 70% of assigned strength.

The authorized strength of the Warrant Officer Corp is 9975 and we presently have 7025 Warrant Officers Assigned.

This is the first time we have exceeded 7000 Assigned Warrant Officers. Some good news is that we have exceeded YTD Recruiting Objective by 164 Warrant Officers.

Initiatives that we have working for us at this time are that DOD has funded Warrant Officer Recruiters for each State and Bonuses for Warrant Officer Retention.

The conference was both interesting and informative and I recommend more attendees at future conferences.

Law Changes: retirees now salute flag
Reprint from Army Echoes, September - December 2008, p3

Retired Soldiers are Still Proud! Congress has put Still Saluting into law for Retired Soldiers and other veterans. The 2008 National Defense Authorization Act (Public Law 110-181) changed...which covers "Conduct during hosting, lowering or passing of flag." "During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present in uniform should render the military salute. Members of the Armed Forces and veterans who are present but not in uniform may render the military salute. All other persons present should face the flag and stand at attention with their right hand over the heart, or if applicable, remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Citizens of other countries present should stand at attention. All such conduct toward the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes."

Membership

The membership of the National Guard Association of Minnesota continues to be of concern. While the rate of retired life state and national membership has stayed constant for many years ($175 for lifetime membership), memberships trickle in. The 148th Fighter wing needs our support and the support of all military organizations as they struggle to find new aircraft to replace their aging fleet. They are preparing to deploy for the fourth time in three years, and with every inspection set new records of achievement. Let's help them by increasing the power of our voice at the National Level. Talk with senior leaders that you know and convince them to support the National Guard Association of Minnesota.

Convention

The retirees were well represented at the National Convention in Baltimore. As we continue to develop Minnesota as an important player, it is critical that we are represented with as many voices at each National Convention. Once you attend a National Convention you will understand how important these "social" events are to the strength of the National Guard. Next year the convention will be held from September 10 through the 13th at Nashville, Tennessee. Plan on attending!

Christmas Party

On Friday night December 5th, 2008, at 1800, we will host our annual Holiday Party and Dinner at the Fort Snelling

Officers Club in Bloomington, Minnesota. Every year this events grows, and we request RSVPs emailed to carl.madsen@gmail.com or Walt Schulz at excdir2@aol.com before the third week of November. Bring your significant other and put on good business attire; we are expecting a significant keynote speaker again this year. In years past we have had briefings from BG Kennedy and MG Shellito, giving us updates on the current status of deployments and programs such as Beyond the Yellow Ribbon.

Executive Directors Report

CW5® Walter D. Schulz

The NGAUS 130th General Conference was held 20-22 September, in Baltimore, MD. Your Minnesota Association had 45 members, spouses and guests in attendance. We had several keynote speakers throughout the conference to include Senators McCain & Biden, Sec Def Gates, General Casey and Veteran's Affairs Secretary Peakes.

The package of resolutions submitted to NGAUS at the conference was passed. These resolutions give direction to the NGAUS staff for next year's legislative proposals.

I received the following article from a NGAUS staff member on membership.

What could Minnesota do with an extra $7,800.00? Scholarships, Family Support, Company Grade officer conference expenses, member dues rebates, special projects, IT upgradesan endless list of choices. Between now and December 31, 2008, Minnesota can qualify for a 25% NGAUS dues rebate of some $7,800.00 by meeting their NGAUS membership goal of 72%. Only 19% to go.

Let's work hard to achieve the 19% goal that we have left, as membership in both the state and national association provides you a means to stay informed and involved in keeping the National Guard well funded, properly staffed and adequately trained. 2008&2009 registration forms can be found in this publication or on line at www.ngamn.org.

The following are some important dates to remember:

5 December 08 Holiday Party at Fort Snelling Officers Club, (you will find registration form in this newsletter). We request RSVPs to carl.madsen@gmail.com or Walt Schulz atexcdir2@aol.com.

148th Fighter Wing
1st Lt Joe Hennessy
Mission Support Flight

The Wing will deploy 320 Airman in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom (OIF) between September 2008 and January 2009. The latest deployment is the Wing's fourth deployment of the "aviation package" to Iraq since 2005. In addition, individuals continue to support Operation Enduring Freedom and Air Expeditionary Forces operations around the world.

The 148th received numerous awards during the past six months. In June, Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) presented the Wing the Voluntary Protection Program (VPP) Star rating. The 148th FW is the first unit in the Air Force to earn the VPP Star rating, which demonstrates a measurable process to show excellence in occupational safety and health. In July, Lt Gen. Craig McKinley, Director Air National Guard, presented the Wing with the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award for demonstrating exceptional Meritorious service. Finally, the 148th was presented the NAGUS Distinguished Flying Unit Plaque and the William W. Spruance Safety Award at the 130th NGAUS General Conference.

The 2009 National and State membership drive is now underway. Capt. Brian Winter, 148th Maintenance Group Executive Officer and I are committed to representing your interests at the State and National levels. Over the next three months we will be seeking your renewed membership and input for Association legislative efforts. Please email 148FWREP@ngamn.org to up channel issues that are important to you.

Mark your calendars...the NGAMN State Conference is scheduled for 24-26 April 2009 at the Alltel Center in Mankato, MN. Visit the Association website for additional details. www.ngamn.org Duluth is scheduled to host the 2012 State Conference.

Report from OPD Attendee at the 130th NGAUS General Conference

By Karly M. Mangen 1LT, AG
JFHQ-J3-Mobilization Readiness, RSG
Liaison Officer

The annual National Guard Association of the United States General Conference; a big name for a big event. If you get the opportunity to attend this conference either on TDY or on your own (tax deductible) dollar I would highly recommend it. Here is why:

To start, the social events make for wonderful friendships, networking, great learning opportunities, and a whole lot of fun. The first evening consisted of a Company Grade/Warrant Officer mixer aboard the Spirit of Baltimore boat in the Inner Harbor. The food, drinks, and dancing (all included in your event registration fee) was a great way to break the ice among the new attendees. The second evening was the Free State Reception located at the Fort McHenry National Monument and Historic Shrine. After an outdoor dinner with drinks, the crowd walked down to the water to watch a narrated historic reenactment and a great fireworks show. The third night is what is called "Hospitality Night" when every National Guard state/territory opens up their hotel hospitality room or plans a party on the town. Again, dinner and drinks are included and with the right plan of action you can visit every party in one evening. The highlight of this year's hospitality night was the DELMARVA-DC-AL (Delaware, Massachusetts, Virginia, D.C., and Alabama) event held at Camden Yards including a free professional picture with the Baltimore Orioles mascot. The final social event of the conference, the States Dinner, brings the annual affair to a close. Soldiers, Airmen, and family members, dressed in their best, enjoyed a very eloquent dinner and entertainment.

If the social events themselves do not convince you, then maybe the list of distinguished speakers will. To name a few, we had the opportunity to hear remarks from Senator John McCain, the Republican nominee for president, Senator Joe Biden, the Democratic contender for vice president, Defense Secretary Robert Gates, General George Casey, the Army chief of staff, General Norton Schwartz, the Air Force chief of staff, and Lieutenant General Steven Blum, the National Guard Bureau chief. The speaking events were open to all attendees and highly encouraged. Who wouldn't want to witness these media-frenzy, high profile events?

If you are still not persuaded; you must go for the learning experiences. The OPD classes consisted of great information as well as an organized staff ride to Gettysburg and the Gortex factory. There were wonderful question and answer luncheons as well as discussions with fellow Company Grade/Warrant Officers. Then there was the exhibit hall, comprised of a wealth of information to explore and a whole lot of free pens and product samples. This year the Baltimore Convention Center hosted over 400 companies and organizations displaying their wares; featuring defense and homeland security products and services. There is no way to leave this event without learning a plethora of new information.

In conclusion, the National Guard Association of the United States General Conference was one of the best opportunities I have ever been awarded. There is no doubt I will attend the conference in the future and persuade my fellow officers to do the same. I have come away from the event with a wealth of knowledge and some good friends. I hope to see you next year at the Gaylord Opryland Resort and Convention Center in Nashville, Tennessee!

2008 NGAUS Conference Article

By Capt Kevin Campbell,
133rd Aerial Port Squadron

2008 NGAUS Conference Article by Capt Kevin Campbell, 133rd Aerial Port Squadron from September 19 thru the 22nd my wife and I had the great opportunity to attend the 130th General Conference of NGAUS in Baltimore, Md. This conference brings together officers from both the Army and Air National Guard and gives them an opportunity to hear from key leaders in both Congress and the Active Army and Air Force as well as leaders from the National Guard Bureau. I was given the opportunity to attend the Officer Professional Development sessions where we as CGO's were given the chance to meet with some of the Flag Officers at the Guard Bureau to include the Chief, Lt Gen H. Steven Blum and take a staff ride to Gettysburg. Lt Gen Blum came to one of our CGO lunches and held a question and answer session with us where I believe he was truly candid and straight forward in his responses. He seemed to have genuine concern as to the feelings and issues of the Captains and Lieutenants of the Guard.

The Maryland Guard did an outstanding job of planning activities for us after the business of the day was completed. We had a CGO mixer the first evening on a boat, "the spirit of Baltimore", in the Baltimore Inner Harbor; day two brought a Governors reception at historic Ft. McHenry. Day three had a luncheon for spouses as well as a hospitality night and for the final evening we had a formal "states dinner". I think a fun time was had by all at each of these activities. What impressed me the most about the conference was that the NGAUS has the ear of some of the key players in Washington as well as the leaders of the Army and the Air Force and they took time out of their busy schedules to come and speak to the conference about issues concerning the military and more specifically the National Guard. To that end we were given to opportunity to hear Senators Leahy, McCain and Biden as well as the Chief of Staff of both the Army and the Air Force. Two Cabinet level officials also spoke to those in attendance, the Secretary of Defense as well as the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

For anyone who has never attended a NGAUS Conference before I would recommend it. I plan on attending future conferences.

Retired/Separated Caucus Meeting

LTC (ret) Geraldine Longfellow

Hello Retirees: I am happy to write a few lines about the Retired/Separated Caucus meeting that took place on 21 September during the 130th NGAUS conference in Baltimore, MD. Around 140 retirees and guests attended the session.

COL (Ret) Ray Magill, Retired/Separated Director-Air (MA) recognized the efforts of the Maryland Retiree Committee in sponsoring the Conference Retired /Separated Luncheon and Caucus meeting. He also introduced special guests in attendance including: past and present NGAUS Directors and Executive Committee members, as well as former TAGs. COL (Ret) Don Deering (TN) was elected to a 3-year tour as Retired/Separated Director-Army. (COL (Ret) Ray Magill term expires in 2010.)

The guest speaker was COL (Ret) Pete Duffy, Deputy Legislative Director for NGAUS. He called on Retirees to take a more active role in assisting to lobby

Congress for retired issues. He talked about this year's successful defeat of legislative efforts to raise TRICRE premiums.

Beginning on 28 January 2008, age 60 retirement can be reduced by three months for each aggregate of 90 days in support of a contingency operation. Next year's legislative efforts will continue to work to make this early retirement provision retroactive to 2001. Focus will also be on authorizing Gray Area Retirees to purchase TRICARE Standard at government cost. Pre-deployment medical/dental coverage is currently available for our ready reserve members starting at 90-days prior to mobilization. NGAUS will work to advance these benefits to begin with receipt of the Training Alert order. This should provide more responsive pre-deployment medical support, especially with dental care issues. Sen. Chamblis of GA was recognized for his exceptional support in sponsoring many National Guard friendly legislative initiatives. The Housing Rescue bill contains provision to extend the 6% interest cap for 1 year post-deployment and calls for no foreclosures for 9 months post-deployment. VA health care is now extended for 5 years (vs. 2 years) post-deployment of a combat tour. There is a strong push to improve behavioral health programs. NGAUS will host a Mental Health Accessibility Roundtable panel on 9 October at the National Guard Memorial Building in DC.

Your Minnesota delegation to the 130th NGAUS General Conference included 12 Air and Army retirees. By the way if you are not a paid up for life member of NGAUS, please consider doing so. The cost is a reasonable, one-time, $125.
